

Dear Investor,

We are sharing this pack because we think you may be one of a small number of the right investors for what we are building. If you manage your own investment activities and recognise the operational problem Vektor is built to solve, you are exactly the investor we are looking for — not simply capital, but someone who works in exactly the room Vektor was built to change. We are looking for three to five partners who have seen what bad implementations look like, and want to back a team that has spent years doing the work before asking for the money.

Before we showed you a product, we published ten papers under our own name about why platforms like this fail. Not to build an audience. To make sure we understood the failure modes well enough to avoid them. The Unvarnished series is available at investpuppy.com/unvarnished. We recommend reading UNV-01 first. It describes the room we built Vektor to replace.

Vektor is a systematic listed equity portfolio management platform for boutique discretionary managers, independent wealth managers, and family offices. Three years in development. Built by practitioners who have operated at institutional scale. The CEO holds a production OpenWealth API credential across Tier 1 custodian institutions in Europe, the Middle East, and Asia Pacific — a network that took years to build and that opens the institutional channel before most competitors can get a meeting.

We are raising US$2.5M at a pre-money valuation of US$9M to US$10M. The raise funds eighteen to twenty-four months of commercial runway — long enough to sign the first Proof Partners, build the institutional relationships that take time regardless of capital, and demonstrate the revenue model across all three streams. Upon close of the raise, both founders commit full-time to InvestPuppy. We are not raising to build. We have built. We are raising to sell.

This pack contains four additional documents — we suggest reading in order: the two-page overview first, then the deck, then the full memo, then the financial model if you would like to go deeper. A Founder Context document on the founding team's background is available on request at investpuppy.com before the NDA conversation. Full team biographies are disclosed in full under NDA. If this is of interest, the right next step is a conversation. We will not oversell the stage we are at. We will show you what exists, be direct about what does not yet, and let you decide.

"Honest by design."

With respect,
